

Blue Talisman is a refined and captivating fragrance crafted for those who command attention effortlessly. It opens with fresh citrus and aquatic notes, creating a clean and invigorating first impression.

At its heart, aromatic lavender and subtle spicy accords blend seamlessly, adding depth and sophistication. The fragrance settles into a warm base of amber, musk, and woody notes, delivering a smooth, long-lasting trail that lingers beautifully on the skin.

Designed for both day and night, Blue Talisman embodies confidence, elegance, and modern sophistication—making it the perfect signature scent for individuals who stand out with quiet power.

LOVE HIBISCUS – THE VIVACIOUS MYSTERY OF FEMINITY

From the moment it begins, Love Hibiscus ingeniously presents both of its main facets at the same time: a Hibiscus note – tart, berry-like, and herbaceous – and an appetising Sugar-coated Palmier accord – sweet, buttery, and caramelised. Linking them together, with their citrusy, woody aspects, are a delicious Passion Fruit and a generous proportion of Frankincense. Finally, Sandalwood, Indian Papyrus, and Vanilla bring the heft and depth that renders the whole perfume indulgent and sensuous.

Inspired by the mystery of a night voyage in the ocean, Cargo de Nuit opens with soft notes of Musk and Aldehydes that crash into woody and mineral notes.

Made by Master Perfumers Givaudan Nadège Le Garlantezec, Shyamala Maisondieu and Antoine Maisondieu, Paradoxe Intense is a floral ambery fragrance with a woody inflection that reveals the intense contrasts of the ingredients: the powerful lift of the delicate Jasmine flower and the vibrant and enveloping warmth of an Amber accord, intensified by a subtle but instantly recognizable Moss accord. Facets of the original fragrance are amplified to obtain a saturation of olfactory sensations with ingredients typical of delicate perfumes, rendered with new intensity.

Enthralling and beguiling, Guidance 46 Exceptional Extrait is a study in light and shade, fragility and strength, subtlety and ostentatiousness - paradoxes brought together with an immediacy that can be achieved only by the art of perfumery. Dosed at a staggering 46% concentration.

What makes Guidance 46 an "Exceptional Extrait"?

Usually, a higher perfume oil concentration means an increased performance of the fragrance (particularly longer-lasting scent), but the impact of oil concentration is much more complex and varies depending on each formula.

Eau de Cologne (EDC) 3% - 10% oils

Eau de Toilette (EDT) 5% - 15% oils

Eau de Parfum (EDP) 15% - 20% oils

Parfum / Extrait 20% - 30% oils

Amouage Guidance 46 - 46% exceptional oils

46% oil concentration, 4 weeks ageing: 2 weeks maceration, 2 weeks maturation

A fragrance is usually a mix of a concentrate (containing fragrant oils) and an alcoholic base. Some fragrances can also contain a bit of water and additives like liquid UV filters, stabilizers, or colourants. Therefore, fragrances with a higher fragrance concentration contain more perfume oils and less alcohol, and vice-versa.

An olfactory expression of the value of time. Crafted through a revolutionary process: a double-infusion with sandalwood and artisanal oakwood barrels.

Each fragrance is highly concentrated, containing 30% pure perfume oils, and underwent a meticulous six-month aging process, including a double infusion with sandalwood chips and oakwood barrels, resulting in a deep, layered scent experience. Housed in a new bottle – the first new design introduced by Amouage in 15 years – the Essences represent a pinnacle of olfactory artisanship.

Outlands by Cécile Zarokian

The edge of imagination. Uncharted mysteries. A dance with the unknown.

Outlands is an invitation to journey into the beyond. The opening note of the composition is unexpectedly light-hearted: an invigorating array of bright citruses, emphasised by zesty lemon. However, as the voyage continues, the landscape becomes more remote and more extraordinary. A rich, multi-faceted patchouli – projecting heat, humidity and verdancy in equal measure – compels the intrepid traveller to move deeper into the cryptic landscape. Finally, an amber accord – reverberating with the potency of balsams and resins – entices a progression to the ultimate encounter, where we find ourselves reflected and remade.

As indescribable as it is familiar, Outlands makes use of extraordinary contrasts between light and shade to capture the ever-shifting inevitability of the future.

Time moves in cycles, and the circle embodies the sublime return of all things.

Lush lychee and raspberry capture the sweetness of life, while saffron adds a red touch. In the heart, osmanthus and rose bloom anew, their richness deepened by tonka bean. The base is a profound embrace of leather, oud, and ambery woods, evoking the endless passage of time, where endings are merely beginnings.
